ADOBE TO ACQUIRE MACROMEDIA

Adobe Systems today announced a definitive agreement to acquire Macromedia in an all-stock transaction valued at approximately $3.4 billion. "The combination of Adobe and Macromedia will provide customers a more powerful set of solutions for creating, managing and delivering compelling content and experiences across multiple operating systems, devices and media. Together, the two companies will meet a wider set of customer needs and have a significantly greater opportunity to grow into new markets, particularly in the mobile and enterprise segments."

"Customers are calling for integrated software solutions that enable them to create, manage and deliver a wide range of compelling content and applications - from documents and images to audio and video," said Bruce Chizen, chief executive officer of Adobe. "By combining our powerful development, authoring and collaboration software - along with the complementary functionality of PDF and Flash - Adobe has the opportunity to bring this vision to life with an industry-defining technology platform."

Under the terms of the agreement, which has been approved by both boards of directors, Macromedia stockholders will receive, at a fixed exchange ratio, 0.69 shares of Adobe common stock for every share of Macromedia common stock in a tax-free exchange. Based on Ado-be's and Macromedia's closing prices on Friday, April 15, 2005, this represents a price of $41.86 per share of Macromedia common stock. Upon the close of the transaction, Macromedia stockholders will own approximately 18 percent of the combined company on a pro forma basis.

In the combined company, Chizen will continue as chief executive officer and Shantanu Narayen will remain president and chief operating officer. Stephen Elop, president and chief executive officer of Macromedia, will join Adobe as president of worldwide field operations. Murray Demo will remain executive vice president and chief financial officer. Dr.

"Both Macromedia and Adobe are passionate about creating and enabling great experiences across a wide range of devices and operating systems"

I've Been Everywhere

I was totin' my pack along the long dusty Winnamucka road
 When along came a semi with a high canvas covered load
 If your goin' to Winnamucka, Mack, with me you can ride
 And so I climbed into the cab and then I settled down inside
 He asked me if I'd seen a road with so much dust and sand
 And I said, 'Listen! I've traveled every road in this here land'

I've been everywhere, man
 I've been everywhere, man
 Crossed the deserts bare, man
 I've breathed the mountain air, man
 Travel...I've had my share, man
 I've been everywhere
 I've been to:
